The Conservatives So Far in the Maj rity-Gladstone's Speech in Answer to Baron Rothschild, Etc.

LONDON, February 3 .- Elections were London, February 3.—Elections were held to day at Cambridge university, in West Norfolk, and Middle Lincolnshire. They resulted in the return of six conservatives, without opposition. In the districts of Bedfordshire the vote was close, and the result divided between the parties.

Disraeli has declared against the repeal of the income tax, and the liberals are making every use of the fact in the present canvass. Members of parliament were to-day nominated, without opposition, by eighteen county and three borough constituencies in England and Wales, and twenty-six conservatives and thirteen liberals were returned. Three liberals and two conservatives were returned in Scotland, and six conservatives, two home in Scotland, and six conservatives, two home rulers, and two liberals in Ireland. No party made any gains to-day, except the home-rulers in Kilkinney and Kerry counties. Thomas E. Taylor and J. T. Hamilton were returned by Dublin county, and John T. Bail and David R. Plunkett by Dublin university. All are conservatives, and represented the same constituencies in the last parliament. Gladstone addressed an assemblage of five thousand people at New Cross to-day. He confuted the statement of Baron Rothschild that the proposed remission of taxes would cause a loss to the revenue of nine in llion pounds sterling, which would have to be made good by new taxation. He declared if at the government placed its reliance on Beotland, and six conservatives, two home that the government placed its reliance on the equitable adjustment of existing taxes, and the practice of rigid economy. He salled attention to the fact that the opposition leader would not promise a total abolition of the incame tax, or any measure of relief for the reperal consumer. the income tax, or any measure of relief for the general consumer.

There was some fighting at Sheffield to-day, and the police were obliged to protect Mundella and Chamberlain, liberal candidates, from the violence of Roebuck's supporters.

There were fifty-six parliamentary elections last week, resulting in the return of twenty-five liberals and thirty-one conservatives. It was Denzill Onslaw, conservative, who was elected in Guilford Saturday. His opponent was Guilford Onslaw, liberal, who represented was Guilford Onslaw, libersl, who represented the borough in the late parliament. The re-turn of Robert Lowe from London university to-morrow, without opposition, is regarded as certain. The conservative candidate has been elected in Wakefield, by one hundred and eighty-eight majority, in place of Beaumont, late liberal member, while in Westbury, which was represented in the last parliament by Phipps liberal-conservative, the liberal candidate has been returned by a mejority of twenty-two. Wholesale bribery is charged against the conservatives in Wakefield, and a petition two. Wholesale bribery is charged against the conservatives in Wakefield, and a petition is to be brought to unseat the member-elect. In Warrington Peter Rylands, a former liberal member, has been defeated, the conservative contestant having a majority of one hundred and eighty. In 1800 Rylands was returned by only twenty-seven majority. Whalley, friend of the Tichborne claimant, has been fre-elected in Peterborough. Two liberal members are returned from Maclessfield. The voting in Bristol to-day was very close, both partles claiming the victory, but the counting of votes is not yet completed. Thomas Hughes has withdrawn from the election in Marylebone, submitting to the opinion of the attorney-general, who declared that his chances of success were not equal to those of Grant. The other liberal nomines, Hughes, appealed to and accepted the decision of the attorney-general to avoid a division of the party and its possible defeat in the pending elections in Marylebone.

The election in Greenwich is in progress, and the return of Gladstone is thought sure. A dispatch from Conought, dated half-past three o'clock this afternoon, says there have been a number of fights and much window-
